This is a serious problem and I just had to write about it. Mutherfuckers are getting too pussy whipped and trying to act hard at the same time. I must say, for where I'm at in my life and what I have been through, I laugh at this and I feel sorry for the poor fool who is sitting there fucked up in the head over some pussy. There is really no way around it. It may happen to you at a young age, or later in life, but you will find yourself straight up TRIPPEN' OVER SOME PUSSY some time in your life. The key to this is to make it through that storm. Yea, you best believe it's one ugly ass storm! This shit is fucked up because you might find yourself trippen' over a really sexy ass chick, or just some hood rat chick who sucks and fucks you like a goddess.

We all know that the word BITCH generally refers to a female, but I gotta say, I have encountered far more guys who are straight up BITCHES in a real way! I can't stand a jealous dude. A dude that has a chick that he just can't control or keep in check, so he walks around fucked up in the head TRIPPEN' OVER SOME PUSSY! I'm gonna tell you where this Bitch ass dude is going wrong. First off, "MEN" you have to learn and understand that females will do what they want, how they want, and when they want. You cannot control them. You can force them, but you cannot control them. Just because she is doing what you say when you are around, don't think for a second she is still under your thumb when you're not around. No woman likes to be controlled and if this is your way of keeping her in check, your fucking up. Give her her freedom and let her be herself and do as she please. If she's being herself is not what you like, then she is not for you. It don't mean force her to do what you say. You are not allowing her to grow and find out who she really is and what she is really attracted to in life. Stop holding on to a piece of pussy like it's the last one left on earth. Females outnumber men 9 to 1 so please believe me, you got other choices than thinking your just stuck with what you have.

MEN never believe that pillow talk, them words that fuck you up when she says "this is your pussy, I will never fuck anyone else, your dick is the only one that will ever go inside of me". Oh my god, you better not believe that shit! Trust me, she will fuck someone else, and don't be surprised if it's one of your homies! Yup, one of your homies will fuck your chick. It happens and some find out and some don't, but she will fuck one of your homies. If your lucky, you will find out and it will teach you a lesson that a woman will do what she wants when she wants regardless of what she has said to you. Now please understand, as you learn to understand females, you will learn to respect them for this way of operating and you will learn to work with them and not against them. Give her space. Please believe me when I tell you this; you're not going to bust a female. If you find something out, there's a good chance she wanted you to know, because when a female wants to get away with doing something she doesn't want you to know about, you will not have a fucking clue. Females might play dumb, but they ain't stupid; Men are really the stupid ones.

Over my 35 years of living and researching females for the past 22 years, I think I've learned some valuable lessons that have made me into the best husband in the world. From what I've been through, you might think it would have pushed me away from seeing anything positive about being in a relationship, even more, getting married. I had to see and go through everything I've been through to get me where I'm at today and to get me to understand why I knew I could get married and be a good husband and do my part in creating a healthy relationship for the both of us.

I am married, but I have no control over my wife. She's a grown ass woman and does what she wants, when she wants and how she wants. I respect her privacy and even though once again, she's my wife, I do not go in her purse for no reason at all. I do not go through her belongings at all. I do not open her mail, I do not open her bed room drawers. Why do I say this, because this is where I'm at with mine. I feel that if you have to check on your spouse, you shouldn't be with that person. I feel if you're looking through their stuff, you're looking for "a reason". I have no reason and I don't want to know nothing I don't need to know. I'm in a relationship with the only person out of all the hundreds I've dated that I actually knew right away that this is the one. This is the one that will be my best friend, a wonderful wife, a great business partner, the one who can accept me for me being me and the person I'm growing into. I say this because life is growth, life is experience.

Being in a relationship is not for everyone. Some people fall in love with someone they were really just supposed to fuck, and some people fuck off someone they were supposed to fall in love with. You have to know which is which and what to do with it. We go through a lot in life, but by the time you hit 30 years old, a light should have turned on. At 30, a serious change in your life should have happened or will happen. I would say, for the past 5 years, things in my life have been very grown up. I've really had to deal with some "grown man shit" making some serious choices in life.

For you youngsters out there, take it from me, have fun with life. Don't hound NO chick. If you're a sexually active person, please make sure you always, always use a condom. Someone saying their on the Pill don't mean she don't have Herpes, Gonorrhea or some stank ass infection that will knock the cool out your walk. Use a fucking condom. You don't want to find yourself paying child support to some money hungry hood rat stank biatch you fucked in the back of your car from a 1-night stand. You better know, if she's okay with letting you go bare back, she's just that type of chick and the dude who boned her yesterday sure didn't use a condom either.

This is no way at all a bashing on females, but more of a insight & education for men to hopefully get a better understanding on how to release the grip and get more out of their relationships. Life is so much better when you're with someone you know you can be comfortable with and the key to this is to rebirth the foundation of your relationship that started with a friendship. Having that friendship is the greatest part about being in a relationship because you know that your best friend is with you all the time.

Ladies, you gotta do your part in this too. Please don't stay in a relationship with a controlling abusive dude. You have the right to walk away. No one owns you. You are just as guilty to blame if you continue to stay in that abusive relationship. Jealousy, abusive ways and controlling acts of a male or female are not acceptable. You gotta cut that lose and turn the page to the next chapter in your life and move on.

You can't change anybody. We are who we are, and we are animal. Some things are instinct, some things are natural and some things are beyond our control. We are not to judge anyone. If someone makes a mistake, you just gotta understand that no one is perfect and mistakes happen, but was it a mistake or just human nature, we are animal. You can't control your woman's sexual appeal she has, so don't trip when she grabs the attention of other people. Be lucky she chose to be with you in this time of her life. Life is what you make it, so relax and STOP TRIPPEN' OVER PUSSY.
